Fetcham Park

Fully refurbished serviced offices

Could Chamber Member Fetcham Park offer the most luxurious serviced offices in Surrey?

Working long hours is detrimental to our health - research by the Trades Union Congress has revealed that nearly three-and-a-half million British workers clock up over 48 hours a week, with one in 25 men toiling for over 60 hours; just sitting down for long periods of time could be as harmful as smoking, reports another study by The American College of Cardiology.

With compounding evidence proving that we should take more care of our health and wellbeing, Fetcham Park, a spectacular Grade II* listed house in Leatherhead, Surrey, already addresses the matter at its newly-refurbished serviced offices. Not only is it providing a spectacular setting in which to work, but the environment and services on offer are tailored to ensure its clients and their employees have a healthier and greatly-improved work/life balance.

Tucked away in a residential enclave, the historic mansion is a discrete yet prestigious business address far from the bustle of a town or city. Providing a home-from-home environment, Fetcham Park's new front of house team provides a personalised concierge service, which not only attends to day-to-day personal errands from dry cleaning to car valeting and chauffeuring - it also provides that bespoke touch expected of a five star luxury hotel: taking care of often forgotten but important personal administration tasks such as sourcing birthday gifts or booking a table at a local restaurant.

Also offered to all clients are personal training sessions by The Health Quest, yoga lessons by Yaur Yoga and bespoke catering by Two Many Cooks.

A Lunchbox prepared by Two Many Cooks

Victoria Stanton, house manager at Fetcham Park, comments: "We believe that looking after our tenants and their employees' wellbeing is one of the most important parts of delivering a serviced office environment. We actively encourage our tenants to step back from their hectic schedules and take part in yoga lessons or enlist in personal training in our landscaped grounds during their lunchbreak, as it helps make people more productive. To complement the activities, we also work in partnership with a local catering company which provides freshly-made nutritional food for events on site, as well as creating healthy lunch boxes or even meals for people to take home - removing the temptation of picking up processed ready meals for dinner! Creating a better work/life balance shouldn't be a privilege for large companies, it should also be available for small businesses and start-ups; at Fetcham Park we make it possible".

But, as many of us know, it's not always easy to take a break; research by Sanlam Private Investments highlights that on average, 60% of office workers don't take a proper lunch break, choosing instead eat at their desk. Fetcham Park's newly-refurbished offices provide stylish, ergonomic furniture such as height-adjustable modern desks that help ease the strain of the ever-increasing working day as well as some new informal break-out areas. Sophisticated meeting rooms also encourage Fetcham Park's clients and their employees to meet with or entertain their clients or colleagues in elegant surroundings; it's a very special setting that's private and in a league of its own.

But the renovation work doesn't mean that the mansion's history has been forgotten - for businesses that would like to work in an environment that harks back to the building's heyday, one particular office, The Boardroom, is now available to occupy and offers a very unique opportunity. As the name suggests, this 500 sq. ft. office epitomises the traditional grandeur of Fetcham Park and features four antique-style partners' desks and ergonomically-designed Herman Miller chairs and a central table for meetings; all capped by an enviable view through the glorious sash windows to peaceful, landscaped grounds - it's truly the most lavish serviced office in Surrey and desks start from just £400/month.

Just 1.4 miles from Leatherhead Train Station and only just over two miles from Junction 9 of the M25, Fetcham Park is ideal for those who still need to attend meetings in the City or Central London. Being equidistant from Gatwick and Heathrow (17.2 miles and 17.4 miles respectively), it's also perfect for those who frequently travel internationally but want to come home to that distinctively British office environment.
